

2013 AFSI Champion Awards

In the United States, over 7 million children have asthma. Of the absences caused by chronic conditions, asthma is one of the biggest contributors causing 14 million missed school days annually. In a classroom of thirty, 3 students are likely to have asthma.

Is your school taking steps to become asthma-friendly?

The Asthma-Friendly Schools Initiative Champion Awards is a national recognition program for schools going above and beyond in their efforts to address asthma. There are two types of award levels available based on the scope of your school's asthma management program.

Application deadline for the 2013 AFSI Champion Awards is June 15, 2013.
