

Introduction to Tribal Air Quality

Course Dates: July 18-20, 2023

Application Due Date: Wednesday, June 14, 2023

Location: Flagstaff, AZ

Description: This course is designed for tribal environmental staff who are NEW to air quality. The course was recently updated with new content. This will be a highly interactive training will include hand on activities, presentations, and group work. The course will consist of a pre-course assignment, and a live 3-day course. Participants are encouraged to bring a laptop to the training.

Goal: Develop a basic understanding of air quality, including the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulatory framework and beyond. Develop or improve a tribal air quality program plan and identify resources (financial and informational) to implement the program.

Learning Objectives

After completing this course, participants will be able to:

- Identify sources/issues/concerns of air pollution in your community.
- Describe the health and environmental impacts of air pollution in your community.
- Describe the regulatory and policy tools for addressing air quality and tribal resources.
- Explain the basics of air pollution and movement
- Name possible elements of a tribal air program that could apply to your community.
- Identify types of air quality assessment projects
- Discuss air quality monitoring activities appropriate for your community concerns.
- Describe the role of Tribal sovereignty in your Tribal Air Quality program.
- Describe methods of community engagement and outreach that are applicable to your communities and community leaders.
- Plan a personal course of study that will meet the needs of your Tribal Air Quality Program.

This course is FREE to selected participants. Additional support for lodging and meals & incidentals (M&IE) and transportation scholarships are provided, see application for details.

Applicants will be notified of their acceptance via email by Friday, June 16th. Those accepted to participate in the course will need to respond by Wednesday, June 21st.

Questions? Please contact: Christal.Black@nau.edu

Apply Now: <https://forms.gle/nxSLGxbGp1hYURje7>