Virtual Course: Project Planning, QAPPs, and Grants for Alaska

September 15-18. 2025

Course Description:

This course is designed for tribal environmental staff who are responsible for managing air quality projects in Alaska Native communities. This will be a highly interactive training. There will be presentations, small-group work, and discussions.

Topics include:

- Visioning and planning for air quality work in Alaska Native communities
- Creating an air quality plan
- Engaging the community
- Building partnerships
- Developing and managing an air quality project
- Using a Quality Assurance Project Plan (QAPP)
- Developing a grant work plan with outputs and outcomes
- Grant reporting

Applications Due: September 3, 2025
Notice of Acceptace: September 5, 2025
Acceptance of course by: September 8, 2025

Register Here

Contact:
🌐 christal.black@nau.edu